

DSL2019

*15th International Conference on Diffusion in Solids and Liquids
ATHENS (Greece) from 24-28 June, 2019*

Qi-Kun Xue, received his PhD degree in condensed matter physics from Institute of Physics, the Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS) in 1994. From 1994 to 2000, he worked as a Research Associate at IMR, Tohoku University, Japan and a visiting Assistant Professor at Department of Physics, North Carolina State University, USA. He became a professor at Institute of Physics, CAS in 1999. He was elected into The Chinese Academy of Sciences in 2005. Since 2005, he has been a professor in Department of Physics, Tsinghua University. From 2010 to 2013, he was the Chair of Department of Physics and the Dean of School of Sciences. He became the Vice President for Research of Tsinghua University in 2013 and the Director of Beijing Academy of Quantum Information Sciences in 2017. He was elected to the Fellow of American Physical Society in 2017. He won the Future Science Prize for Physical Sciences in 2016 and the TWAS Prize in Physics in 2010.

His research interests include scanning tunneling microscopy/spectroscopy, molecular beam epitaxy, low-dimensional and interface-related superconductivity, topological insulators, and quantum size effects in low-dimensional structures. He has authored/coauthored ~500 papers and presented more than 150 invited/keynote/plenary talks. Currently, he is the Associate Editor of National Science Review, the Editors-in-Chief of Surface Review & Letters, and on the Editorial Board of Applied Physics Letters, Journal of Applied Physics, Surface Science Reports and AIP Advances.
